Telkom's intent with this invitation for information:

Telkom has identified a need for low cost video surveillance products for small, medium and large businesses as well as the consumer market. These product offerings will be based on existing access mediums viz. ISDN, ADSL.

Information is required to establish a partnering relationship for the supply and installation of Video Surveillance equipment including hardware, software and management systems. Total solutions would be offered which includes cameras, microphones and control room equipment. These items will be seen as optional and based on customer requirements. It is envisaged that customers will be able to choose from a variety of camera equipment, which will best suit their environment.
